Five Years In Bay

City Buys
Rader

By a five to one vote in yesterday's session the Bay St. Louis Commission Council had its purchase in progress along grading attachment from the Mississippi Supply Company of Jackson for $1,077,00, which was the second lowest bid. The bid for $26,832.70 was offered by the Central Machinery Co., of Gulfport, $3,494.22 less than Mississippi Supply Company. Mayor Carver made a motion to buy the grader from the Mississippi Supply Company which was recommended by Commissioner A. F. C. Rader. Rader called it a vote of "trust" in Mayor Carver and Commissioner voted "Aye," while Commissioner Rader voted "No" saying he favored the low bid as it met specifications.

Yesterday night the Council with twenty residents in a annexed area and discuss the problems of the area's citizens and the Council's programs in trying to help them. The annexed area people are trying to form an association which will meet at various times in the Council to discuss programs and work toward solving them. They also expect to locate property for playgrounds, plan to maintain with proper equipment or provide playgrounds which will be available as new equipment arrives.

Inspectors Attend Training Sessions

Additional protection for the Gulf Coast home owners by professionally dependable inspectors were the aim of an Inspectors Training Conference held in Long Beach last week.

Building inspectors from Operation Upturn offices in Waveland, Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Long Beach and Gulfport attended the week-long conference which ended Friday, April 24.

Paul Haubert, Chief Inspector for the City of Tampa, Fla. and code enforcement official for the Tampa urban renewal project, conducted the daily sessions under the combined auspices of HUD and the Mississippi Governor's Emergency Council.

Strict adherence to individual municipalities' minimum housing codes as adopted is a primary consideration for residential rehabilitation under the Certified Area Program, therefore uniformity of code standard interpretation is required of all CAP inspectors.

Last week's training sessions covered the purpose of inspections; physical inspection of structures; HUD regulations; estimating and specifications. An "on-site" inspection of an applicant's home in Long Beach was made by the entire group and Haubert explained the intricacies of code regulated estimating.

Supervisors To Clarify Clean-Up

Supervisors Russell Elliott, C. A. Russ III, J. C. Mauffray, Civil Defense Director Lucien Kidd, County Engineer Don Murry and August Elmer met with William Holloway, Regional Director of the OEP April 26 at Gulfport. The meeting was to discuss the Clean-Up Program in Hancock County.

Topics discussed were 1.

Clean-up of Rural Areas under the Agriculture Stabilization

Conservation Service (ASCS).

2. Rivers and Streams.

3. County Dumps.

4. Beach Clean-up.

5. Court House and other

County Buildings.

6. Drainage Ditches.

7. Reimbursements.

Main issue of the seven topics was the cleanup of rural areas of the county under the direction of the ASCS who acts as an agency of the OEP.

Conflicting information has resulted in a large amount of confusion in the ASCS operation under different guidelines.

Holloway suggested the Board of Supervisors arrange the Board of Supervisors

Dedication ceremonies were conducted Sunday afternoon at the new Gulf Central Airport-

Stennis Field in Hancock County. The lengthy afternoon event featured keynote speaker,

Lt. Gov. Charles L. Sullivan, who was also on the original ground-breaking ceremony in 1960.

Other speakers on the program were Clayton Russ, Gulf

port publisher; Russell Elliott,

president of Hancock County

Board of Supervisors; and Dom

Sullivan, president of the

Hancock County Port & Harbor

Commission.

Sullivan announced plans for a vocational-technical training program to start in Hancock County May 15th.

He said his program, designed in the area of industrial training, will begin with 60 students and will increase as it goes along.

The Hancock government pointed out that despite the problems which have faced the area recently, Hancock County has come along way toward meeting the needs of the people.

The planning Mississippi are state and local" as best as the bottom in education, economy, industry and other fields," Sullivan said.

Hancock has more natural resources, such as water, climate and people, than many more progressive states, he said.

Forecasting that Hancock

County, with its new airport, will take a much higher position of leadership in the state, Sullivan said. "Although we have experienced some trying times in recent months, what the county was before will compare with what it will be."

Rand commented on the move to consolidate Coast municipalities and said "The future of the Coast will come when the people of each political subdivision develops their own resources."

He also touched on the importance of maintaining a spirit of unity and said "Hancock County and Bay St. Louis have taken wings" with the decision of their new airport.

Elliott, speaking on aviation's role in the county's future, said the airport is a great way to Hancock's economic success.

He noted the county has applied for designation as a port of entry, has applied to the Federal Aviation Agency for additional funds for expansion of the airport and has received inquiries from various South

American transporters.

Lenday discussed the progress made by the airport and

By (D) Elliott

Have spent the week at Jackson, Miss., with my brother, husband and wife. Have fished with the grandfathers played a little golf and seen the weather was ideal. Most all sports, like during the day and cool at nights. Found a number of wonderful farm ponds. Played in Ross Barnett Reservoir which contained some real bass and pike fishing. Catching big 'tups in the order of the day right now. Plenty critters are caught on trout line in upcountry River that supplies the water for the reservoir. Like every where else not a bunch of fisherman.

Among them was Al Harsby who enjoys both fly fishing and casting. He catches his share of fish when not working. He also does some boating. His sons Kenneth, Roger and Tommy, fish too.

Daniel Baker's hobbies are fishing and hunting. Like most sportsman he goes on every occasion.

Mot W. R. Bennett, "Billy" to his friends is a swell guy. Doesn't fish much but makes it pleasant for his friends. He gets his share of daves and quaff when the time is ripe. Thanks fellow for an enjoyable evening.

Kerwood (Squatch) Grantham, realtor, shared his boat with friends. Naturally he is a fisherman and always ready to go.

R. Glen Batson of the Batson Hardware Company visited Bay St. Louis' years ago at Faye's Fishing Camp on Cutten Bayou where he did a lot of fishing. His boy other friends on the Coast including his old buddy Dudley H. H. Moyer who has a TV sports program on Channel 12 and manufactures some mighty good fishing baits, Pay us a visit, partner.

Corky Schindler was home on a 25-day leave from service visiting his parents and friends. Same old Corky.

Erik Noguchi has been eating some nice specialties off the highway bridge. Good news, ate it?

John Proctor and his boy, Al Holland, does all kind of fishing as well as crabbing and flounder. Seaford is not a problem with this pair.

Denton Treet of Winona is staying in the Bay now. He enjoys his fishing and hunting.

Larry Nease is another of our local hunters and fishermen. He takes to the outdoors whenever possible.

Billy Power and Prentiss Hinson fish and hunt but their most favorite sport is shooting dice with a bawhalar. Keep the good work follows. A bawhalar is the only good one.

V. C. Friesen is not much of a fisherman but when it comes to catching something he is the world's best. They are mighty good when eating fish or eat crab.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Schmitz live at Blueberry Road. John works on a boat which operates out of Levelland and catches his share of the sea fish. The Michael however strikes when it comes to catching them.

Another fishing camp is Mr. and Mrs. Bill Collier. The best thing they like about fish is more of them.

Ernest and Rosalie Carter hardly love both hunting and fishing as well as having friends. We'll get together one of those days, folks.

Jack Carter one of our younger fishermen finds all the excitement at Torreto Avenue, down Waveland way. He catches all kinds of fish. He is only 18.

Terry Baumgard of Waveland is nice an ardent fisherman. Terry, like most other natives learned fishing the natural way. Catching fish you can eat.

A guy wearing sunglasses is looking for a house and has a fairly full of started entries and isn't taking any chances though.

THE BRIDGE on Joe's Bayou Road, just north of Bay St. Louis, was destroyed by Hurricane Camille. According to Russell Elliott, president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, repair and restoration of this bridge has been delayed because of an estimate cost of a new bridge to add to approximately $14,000.00, which the board feels is too high.

Mary Ellen Murphy Awarded Scholarship

Mary Ellen Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick S. Murphy, 224 Felicity, Bay St. Louis, has been awarded a National Merit Scholarship from Edric College, Lake Forest, Ill.

While attending Bay Senior High School, Miss Murphy has achieved many honors including STAR student for 1970, Student Council President, and March of Dimes TAP Chairman. She participates in the Science, Math and French Clubs, and serves as accompanist for the boys chorus. Miss Murphy is also active in the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre.

She has served for three years as an officer in the CYO, and is presently secretary-treasurer of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club junior member.

Miss Murphy plans to major in English at Edric College, a Catholic girl's college in Indiana which offers a liberal arts program to 650 women.

Over 8,000 of the nation's oldest high school seniors were named Merit Scholarship winners today in an announcement by Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. "The 1970 Merit Scholars were chosen from among 15,000 highly qualified students who were Finalists in the 1969-70 Merit Program," Smith said. "It is gratifying that approximately 400 companies, colleges, foundations, unions, others organizations and individuals are continuing to increase their support of these outstanding young people. If funds were available, every Finalist would receive a Merit Scholarship."

Two types of Merit Scholarships were awarded this year. About 2,000 of the awards are four-year Merit Scholarships, providing between $400 and $2,000 each ($100 to $1,500 per year), depending upon the individual student's need. Colleges sponsored about 600 of these four-year awards, selecting their winners from among Finalists choosing to attend each sponsoring college. Corporations and corporate foundations provide most of the four-year Merit Scholarships, in many cases offering the awards for Finalists who are children of the firm's employees. Other sponsors favor Finalists who have indicated certain career preferences or who have some other qualification which the sponsor wishes to encourage. Some sponsored four-year Merit Scholarships are open to any Finalist without regard to preferential criteria.

One thousand other students were awarded National Merit Scholarships, which are one-time, non-renewable awards, each providing a $1,000 grant, payable next fall when the winners enter accredited colleges or universities. Approximately 390 of these awards were underwritten by various National Merit Scholarships Corporation funds. The National Merit $1,000 Scholarships are awarded on a state-by-state basis. The number of winners selected in each state is proportional to the state's number of graduating high school seniors.

The dinner to be served at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club will begin at 7:30 o'clock, Wednesday evening May 13, following a cocktail hour from 6:30 to 7:30. The evening's program will be announced later. Tickets for the dinner at $4.00 per person may be obtained at the Sea Coast Deli, Gulf Thrift Drug, the Waveland Drug Store and at the door. However, persons wishing to attend should get tickets early as only a limited number will be available.

Those who might wish to make further contributions to the cause may do so at the door. Checks for ticket contributions should be made payable to Hancock County Cancer Society Unit.

New officers for chairman of the meeting are A. V. Godfrey, President; William Muller, Vice-President; Alvin Clark, Past Secretary and Robert Wade, Treasurer.

Retiring officers are Andy Barker, President; Mrs. Terry Fennell, Secretary and Rose de Menthun, Treasurer.

a big reason why FEEDERS sells circles around all other air conditioners

Feeder's new high capacity air conditioner circles deliver a full big room full of clean, cool dry air every six minutes — far more comfort than other air conditioners of comparable capacity. The secret of many "air conditioners" is the Feeder's Big Wheel centrifugal blower. It enables Feeder to move an amazingly large volume of cool air without increasing sound levels. No placing comfort is off limits.

Remember — Feeder's "Big Wheel" centrifugal blower circulates and extracts all the air in a large area as often as 10 times an hour compared to other units which change it as infrequently as six times an hour.

Other Feeder features: Flexible air direction system, adjustable remote thermostat, slide-out shelves, Remote Cooling Power, insulated steel cabinet.

Guest EditorialCancer..*An 'ACTION GAP'?

The American Cancer Society has repeatedly pointed out that cancer is no longer an automatic death sentence. For from it, it is, in fact, one of the most curable of the major diseases.

Yet the Society also points out that more than 100,000 Americans, who might have been cured, will die of cancer this year. If their disease had been diagnosed and treated in time, chances are they would be alive and well.

Why not?

Many -- perhaps most -- of them have doubtless heard of the need for early diagnosis and treatment. Thanks largely to the cooperation of the nation's press, the Society has been able to bring its life-saving message to the attention of a big percentage of the American people. Great numbers of people know that something should -- and can -- be done about cancer. They have "gotten the message."

The trouble is, too often they don't act on it. It is not only the annual physical checkups which is involved, of course. Knowledge of the Seven Warning Signals, and the taking of a few elementary precautions can also be life-savers. Avoidance of cigarettes and the wearing of light, protective clothing when exposed to the sun for long periods can actually prevent cancer, of the lung and skin respectively.

What is at the heart of the matter is obviously not so much a "communications gap" as an "action gap." The Society's messages of safety and health are reaching millions -- but all too many of us aren't really listening.

The American Cancer Society needs your support to do its job: a job it is doing magnificently well -- on its part.

But the other half of the job is ours: to act on the knowledge given us. No one else can force us to. Saving our lives begins with us.

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

I would like to share some heartwarming experiences that Hancock North Central Elementary School has had this session, due to the kindness of various Red Cross Youth chapters throughout the eastern part of our country.

Following the hurricanes, we were contacted by the Gulfport Chapter of the American Red Cross, inquiring how they could help us. When we sent in lists of materials that we'd lost and needed to replace, those lists were distributed to certain chapters east of the Mississippi. As a result of this general appeal, materials and money have been sent us in a steady stream, with gifts still coming.

Red Cross Youth groups (Adolescent Council) in our classrooms, and our school, helped to take care of the materials listed in one section. From the same city came a $300 check. We have received a post play-ground equipment from Connecticut. General, came to check on the care of the materials listed in one section. From the same city came a $300 check to another section. From Guttenberg, N.J., came a large box of art materials and quiet games. Jackson, Mississippi sent a fine selection of records, games, and coloring frames. Normandy sent clothing and rainy day games. Chester, Pennsylvania, sent two lovely record players. The children there were unable to raise the money entirely, so the local Rotary Club pitched in and assisted. Another group in Chester held an Easter dinner and donated their proceeds of $75. An eighth grade girl in Morestown, New Jersey, spearheaded a bake sale and sent us the $40.00 profit. Other groups have sent two separate checks for needed supplies. In the Memphis area eight schools pooled their collections to send us $100 in maps and globes.

Our year has been extremely difficult and progress seems very slow. However, it is wonderful to know that the boys and girls of our school are making a difference. We are learning the wisdom and insight acquired from reading what "The Lord" tells us.

We should all become aware of the plans the Christians have for us. The love of God, call it whatever you want, is a definite factor in the ministry of the church. We must remember that Christians are rapidly increasing their cause, to do God's will around the world.

Don't we be concerned the work of beginning all-out evangelistic action, whenever possible? We must remember that Christians are rapidly increasing their cause, to do God's will around the world.

The Lord says to us "faith without works is dead faith."

This letter is written in an effort to let our friends of the American Red Cross Youth Groups know how deeply their blessings are appreciated.

(Mrs.) Pauline Johnson

A Conservative View

by James J. Kilpatrick

Almost a year ago, in his memorable press conference of May 22, President Nixon explicitly stated his intention to nominate "strict constructionists" to the Federal bench. In his use of the phrase several times since then, most recently in reference to Judge Harry A. Blackmun, and to his question arises now: What do we mean by "strict construction" of the Constitution?

One variable definition might be derived from reading a recent speech by former Attorney General Ramsey Clark before the American Enterprise Institute. If you accept that Clark's position as it stood on a compass, you could that locate "strict construction" as due east, or 100 degrees around to the right.

Clark is perhaps the most extreme exponent of the flexible school of constitutional theory. In his eyes, the Constitution is "an old piece of parchment," filled with "more words" and "antique phrases." In truth, he contends, "there are no immutable words" in the Constitution; there are only general principles, to be broadly applied to the needs of each generation. The important thing, in Clark's view, is to divine the "spirit" of the Constitution and to move on from there.

The strict constructionist takes a very different view, in his talk with reporters last May, Mr. Nixon refused to explain his understanding of the phrase by reciting the late Felix Frankfurter's "There was no question that [the Supreme] Court erected the strict constructionist, behind the Cooley doctrine. The principal virtue of a written constitution is precisely in that fact: It is written. Unlike Great Britain, the United States--in theory, at least--has buried the supreme law upon a document that enables us to read the powers of government and the rights of people. If these boundaries are to be changed, they ought to be changed, as the Constitution provides, by amendment only.

Also, Cooley's rule of navigation has been just about exploded. The extraordinary progress in technology has ruled the Court in the years of Earl Warren. If the Ramsey Clark of today had his way in the 21st century, it is no longer necessary for judges to be necessary for judges learned in the law. We will be free to act for ourselves, called in communicating with the "spirit" of the old piece of parchment.

Those of us who stand due east, on the side of strict construction, would prefer judges. We want men of self-restraint, men of humility, men who understand that the Constitution belongs not to them, but to the people. We want Tenth Amendment men, who believe that the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

The Supreme Court, as Justice Black remarked recently, never was intended to sit as a constitutional convention, constantly in session. The Court's role is to interpret, not to amend. Permit us a small prayer, as Judge Blackmun comes on for confirmation, that he sits on the eastern rim.

There was sound reason, of course, behind the Cooley doctrine. The principal virtue of a written constitution is precisely in that fact: It is written. Unlike Great Britain, the United States--in theory, at least--has buried the supreme law upon a document that en-

HIC TRACK AND FIELD EVENTS

The Hancock School's track team has been one of the three best during the last few weeks.

The first meet was held in Madison, Miss., April 3. The boys' team qualified for the state's all-relay events. They placed 3rd in one event and 4th in the other relays.

The girls team placed 2nd in the girls division. Debbie Davis was selected as the outstanding girl athlete by the meet committee. She won first place in the broad jump and high jump and was 4th in the 100-yard dash, 3rd in the relay race and 4th in the 100-yard dash.

Wednesday, April 15, the Hawkettes played at the Oxford High Girls School, Biloxi, and won all of the dashes and relays.

Coach Torrell Sandiford had his team to Jackson on April 16, and competed against 14 teams. Madison-Bogalusa High School was 3rd in the competition.

Information Institute notes that the destructive potential of fireworks is sharply reflected by a Fourth of July conflagration in Portland, Me. in 1861 which destroyed 1,500 buildings and caused $10 million damage. The fire was started by a carelessly tossed firecracker.

OLG Girls Take Softball Games

AT BAT Mary Trudell, OLG, shows what it takes to win a baseball game. The girls from OLG defeated the St. Clare's girls 8 - 5 last week. Umpire in the picture is Frater Mike Loschak.

Members of the team are Mr. Jimmy Rags, Instructor of English and Advisor for the Wildcat Heart Fund Drive at Pearl River Junior College. The auction is part of the drive to the Wildcat Heart Fund, to be $2,000.00 toward the Heart Fund.

Where There's Smoking...

NEW YORK—Smoking may be hazardous to your environment as well as to your health, says the Insurance Information Institute. Of the 960,900 U. S. building fires in 1967, nearly one in five were traced to causes related to smoking and matches.

Hundreds of Gulf Coast Citizens

Are Now Engaged In The Spring

Campaign. Will You Also Help?

Local merchants have recently distributed 40,000 young trees free of charge to help heal the scars left by the storm. Hancock Bank is distributing 25,000 packets of flower seeds in the program.

Hundreds of residents are planting many thousands of blooming plants purchased from stores and nurseries.

Other hundreds are engaged in a pick-up campaign to clean-up papers, food and drink containers, broken branches and the many other bits of debris that litter the landscape.

Spring is the time when nature lavishes all her glories on our beautiful Coast. With your help it can bloom again this Spring. Now is the time to begin your own "Clean-Up, Plant and Beautify" campaign. Will you help?

Counselling Agency Extends Services

The Gulf Coast Family Counseling Agency has been providing casework services to Negro families in Hancock County. David Laney, Director of the Agency, announced that due to the extensive increase in the number of families who have applied for professional counseling, the Agency has expanded itself to provide interviewing facilities at the Hancock Hospital, hospital for persons and families unable to travel to the main office in Biloxi. "We are most grateful to the Board of Health General, Mr. Schindler, the Director of the Hospital, and the members of the Hancock County United Fund for their help in our establishing this outpost branch," said Laney.

The Gulf Coast Family Counseling Agency, a member agency of Hancock and Harrison County United Funds, provides professional casework counseling for families experiencing relationship problems. These difficulties pertain to parent-child relationship problems, marital conflict, and individual personality adjustment difficulties. Many persons applying for services have families in which children are having adjustment problems.

In particularity, understanding in school.

Caseworkers employed by Gulf Coast Family Counseling Agency have at least a Masters in Social Work degree from a qualified school of social work and experience in the family service field. Each counselor has an undergraduate degree in a field related to social work and belongs to the Academy of Certified Social Workers.

The Agency is governed by a twenty-four member board of directors that geographically represent the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Fees for services are based on a sliding scale that takes into consideration the size and income of the family. No one is denied service because of inability to pay.

Mr. Eugene Charles is responsible for the Agency's casework and groupwork services for Hancock County. "Any person in need of our services may telephone our Biloxi office to arrange an appointment." It is necessary that a family or individual desiring services arrange the first interview at the main office. Casework plans concerning further appointments will be arranged either in Bay St. Louis or Biloxi, depending upon the family's transportation resources.

THE MOST REV. Carlos Lewis, S.V.D., left, Auxiliary Bishop of Panama City and The Most Rev. Harold R. Perry, S.V.D., Auxiliary Bishop of New Orleans, the first American born Black Bishop in the U.S. hierarchy, are pictured prior to the ceremonies held at Divine Word Seminary on Sunday, April 26.

Three Bishops Concelebrate Golden Jubilee Mass

The Most Rev. Joseph B. Brunini, D.D., Bishop of the Natchez-Jackson Mississippi Diocese celebrated the Golden Jubilee Mass Sunday, April 26 at Divine Word Seminary.

The first seminary to accept Black Seminarians in the United States, the Bay St. Louis seminary is commemorating its 50th Jubilee year during 1970.

Bishop Brunini was assisted by the Most Rev. Harold R. Perry, S.V.D., Auxiliary Bishop of New Orleans, the only Black Bishop in the U. S. hierarchy, and the Most Rev. Carlos Lewis, S.V.D., Auxiliary Bishop of Panama, both alumni of Bay St. Louis Seminary.

An equally prominent alumnus, and the first Black S.V.D., to be raised to the episcopacy, the Most Rev. Joseph Bowers, S.V.D., Bishop of the Accra Diocese in Ghana, Africa, was unable to attend the Golden Jubilee celebration which also included an open house, a dinner and a program at 3 p.m.

Because the founder of the Society of the Divine Word, Rev. Arnold Janssen, S.V.D., believed that the Catholic Church among the Blacks in the United States was short of man power, Divine Word Missionaries began working in the South as early as 1905.

Committed that local clergy was necessary for a self-sustaining Church, Divine Word Missionaries founded the first seminary in the United States to accept Blacks at Pineville, Mississippi in 1920. Bay St. Louis became the new home for the seminary in 1923. For many years no other seminary opened its doors to Black youth except the Bay St. Louis Seminary.

Today most men's religious orders have at least one ordained Black priest or Brother, as

Since I have worked with this group since its inception, my group has done many and various. One project I recall particularly deals with our first theatrical play. The late Malo Anselmo presented in December, 1951, for Carroll Avenue, Inc., a play for Little Mississippi. Since the beginning consisted of four walls and a roof, naturally much had to be done to furnish the stage and the audience seating. This was the first time we ever had the theater, but after some hard work, we were able to build up a wall on a cleared area of the floor on the other side. But the other hard work was to get the audience to come in and buy tickets. We did not have too many members at that time, so the members worked hard for several hours, all of which turned out well. I thought I was lucky to have such a good group of people to help me.

Eric von Stroheim's "T uch could not be less good than famous Broadway productions! But that night

Participates

In its efforts to share its entertainment with others, the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre on several occasions has invited patients from the Gulfport Veterans Hospital and military personnel from Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, and the Seabees base, Gulfport, to attend dress rehearsals as guests.

Typical of letters of appreciation received after such evenings is the one dated April 4, 1951, from the Red Cross Field Director Patricia Thompson:

Jewel Thiamann Wolen and Andrew A restaurant portray a tense scene from the "Bad Seed", production in 1952 and directed by Caroline Koster.

Please accept our hearty thanks on behalf of the 27 patients who enjoyed the play, "Born Yesterday," at the Little Theatre last Sunday. It surprised us all with its surpassing expectations. As one patient put it, "That was better than the movie." The patients are always glad to go on an outside trip, and they really felt privileged to see a "real live stage show." Also, we want to thank you for the copies served at intermission and for the gracious hospitality shown us by everyone.

Sincerely yours,

Patricia Thompson

considered this "parent" in the "Workers", and "The Old Couple", "Friends", and "The Old Couple".

During the past twenty-five years have played the parts of the audience, the directors, the actors and actresses, the stagehands, and the many unformed players. Our plays have formed the basis of the unformed aspect of the unfolded spirit of this community, and to this day they have brought enjoyment and many friendships literally to thousands.

Bay St. Louis has had the idea that they own their own playhouse; so a 100' x 30' building was purchased by Dr. Emmet Ervin, and a building erected at the approximate cost of $8,000. Volunteer labor, good will and large donations helped build the theatre.

Later the building measured 30 by 60 feet. It was equipped with theater type seats, and a bar, and telephone. The stage section across the back of the auditorium contained a "stage", two dressing rooms, a bath, and a loading platform. The stage section had a ceiling height of 18 feet which allowed a complete change of scenery to be raised or lowered into place.

THF LITTLE THEATRE

In 1946 there were 26 members of the first meeting of the Little Theatre. Mrs. John Bell, president, Mr. A. D. Dreher, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. C. D. Bial, chairman of the dramatic committee; and the late Joseph Korn, chairman of the stage committee. Others attending the first meeting were: John Bell, C. D. Bial, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Knoblock, Adella Kunkel, Gov. Sununu, Mrs. Catherine Wilson, Gladys Jones, Dr. Ferdinand Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kithpatrick, Mrs. Carolynne Tolson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chiaro, Mrs. Magie Beckman, Mrs. and Mrs. Clifton Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. Al Wohlgemuth.

The first play was successfully presented along with eleven others which followed that first year. The membership fee was $3.00 and by the end of the year there were 250 members.

At a business meeting held in 1947 it was decided that it was too much to ask the players to do twice a year. It was agreed that if performances were increased the quality and production of the plays could improve because there would be more time for rehearsals.

The membership was raised to $5.00 a year.

Theatre was soon faced with another problem—they were forced to give up the building they were occupying because it was going to be demolished. The concrete board sponsored

25th ANNIVERSARY CONGRATULATIONS

Bay St. Louis
Little Theatre

BEST WISHES FROM

GERALD GEX, LUCIEN GEX, SR.,
JOE GEX and WALTER J. PHILLIPS

Where Do We Go From Here?

It depends on whom you ask, loves its specificity and tells for all of us in the Little Theatre many of the recent building, now have, and aims for project. One will tell you that his crystal hall shows a new and modern Little Theatre, built by state or Federal funds on a lot facing the highway... a direct correspondence with orchestra pit, dressing rooms, on present nights, performances, could play a role in lighting equipment, and all-around conditions. Another says he "Wants a nice captain and crew says," says another, "and no one is front sideways?" The crystal ball is crowded with visitors!

Griffith that all that cost money... and crushed that money is something a non-profit organization can do much more... daily decorations may be much more... and immediate problems, any difference to invite ed to consider the fact that

25 years ago there was Little Theatre here of all. The Ream of the Future has other possibilities for our theater too! We'd like very much to see the children's theater program expanded from summertime to year around. We'd like to encourage the special presentation (on a one-night, no props basis) of plays written by our own members!

We'd like to have a workshop for would-be directors and a theater for would-be actors. We want to do some experimental theater work aside from regularly scheduled plays. We think you should be more than occupied with it. When the theater groups as when the Gulf Coast Theater of Memphis formed "The Barrels of Wimpy Street" here. We'd like to expand the lobby for bigger art shows, and perhaps Sunday afternoon concerts. In fact, what we'd really like is to make the Little Theatre somewhere to go for the best in live entertainment throughout the year.

Is there something you can do to help these daydreams emerge from the crystal ball?

Best Wishes From

A lovely photograph of one of the founders of the theatre, Mario Latico Billard, as she appeared on stage in the 1955 production of "The Time Of The Cuckoo".

Bay St. Louis Little Theatre was incorporated last summer at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre. Directing a cast of high school and college students, he presented a musical version of the "Beauty and the Beast" of four consecutive matinees to more than 200 spectators. The response from the audience was so great that they returned for three performances.

Especially optimistic were the older students who not only acted but built the sets; did the art work, made the costumes and provided all the colorful crystal lighting effects necessary. It is to be hoped that a program of amateur theatre for children will become a part of the LAMCO's cultural contribution to their community.
